A global research indicates that the single most important factor that can improve quality of education is the quality of teachers. In world's best education systems, teaching is the most aspirational job while in India; sadly teachers are drawn from the bottom 20 percent of graduates.

About TeachersChoice

TalentSprint's TeachersChoice program is an initiative towards building a high quality workforce by upskilling both aspiring and in-service teachers. Our approach to training teachers is unlike any other, beginning with the mindset and skills that have greatest impact on student learning. Our trainers have been teachers in some of the most demanding classrooms and have delivered exceptional results, demonstrating that the most influential factor on student outcomes is the teacher quality and motivation.

The TeachersChoice engagement begins with schools visits to observe the teachers and analyse performance. Based on this study customized inputs are offered to Teachers to improve classroom effectiveness. Our recommendations include practices, techniques and learnings from the most successful classrooms across the globe that can be integrated successfully in any classroom. We strongly believe that this is the way to transform the status quo of one of the world's greatest professions.
